CURRENT NUMBERS AND TRENDS

As the vaccination rates rise, average daily cases and positivity rates continue to drop. These are encouraging and hopeful signs that we are truly driving transmission down and the vaccine is working and protecting us from COVID infection and transmission. Daily cases continue to drop in the county and region. As of June 3, the 7-day average of new cases is at 4 per day, down from 6 last week. The 7-day average for percent positivity rose slightly to 4.7% this week. Both metrics have been declining for over 6 weeks. To see direct data, visit our dashboard.

Some local trends of note currently are:

- 57% of cases in May were in those less than 40 years of age, those with the lowest vaccination rates
- Currently, there are 314 active COVID-19 cases in the county
- If you have cold-like, allergy-like, or sinus-like symptoms, please get tested.
